

AMERICAN-CANADIAN GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

May 4, 1974
St. Anselm's College

Professor Roger Lawrence, President, opened the meeting with further information on the formation of our Society and it's costs. He asked members to volunteer to do work-ups on assembling marriages of parishes that have not as yet been put into book form. Also, to gather material at the Bureau of Vital Statistics, cemeteries, etc.

Director Leo Bisailon spoke on the publishing of a small journal to be printed for our Society and asked for articles and material to be submitted.

Michael Gorman gave a talk on heraldry with examples shown. He gave the following addresses for those wishing special information on the same:

Societe de Heraldrie de Paris
Societe de Grand Armoral de France
179 Blvd Haussman, Paris.
Societe de Heraldric Courcelles
113 Rue de Paris, Paris.
Ottawa House, Ottawa, Canada, has British
Armorial records.

He told us the language of Heraldry is of ancient Norman French and the early Normans made their own. It is permitted that anyone can make an "arms" of their own as long as no one else has one of the same design. "Armiges" beside a name means this person has the right to an arms.

Roger Lacerte gave an excellent coverage on early Acadian history from the time of De Monts settlement on St. Croix's Island 1604 to the Acadian Expulsion in 1755.

Registration time was from 1 - 2:P.M.

The meeting came to a close around 5:P.M.

Respectfully Submitted,

Jeanette Dimondie

AMERICAN-CANADIAN HERALDICOLOGICAL SOCIETY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

May 4, 1978

St. Anselm's College

Professor Roger Lawrence, President, opened the meeting with further information on the formation of our Society and its costs. He asked members to volunteer to do work-ups on assembling materials of papers that have not as yet been put into book form. Also, to gather material at the Bureau of Vital Statistics, cemeteries, etc.

Director Leo Bisillon spoke on the publishing of a small journal to be written for our Society and asked for articles and material to be submitted.

Michael Gorman gave a talk on heraldry with examples shown. He gave the following addresses for those wishing special information on the same:

- Societe de Heraldrie de Paris
- Societe de Grand Armorial de France
- 179 Blvd Haussmann, Paris
- Societe de Heraldrie Concorde
- 113 Rue de Paris, Paris
- Ottawa House, Ottawa, Canada, has British
- Armorial records.

He told us the language of Heraldry is of ancient Norman French and the early Normans made their own. It is permitted that anyone can make an "arms" of their own as long as no one else has one of the same design. "Arms" beside a name means this person has the right to an arms.

Roger Lacerte gave an excellent coverage on early Acadian history from the time of La Roche's settlement on St. Croix's Island 1604 to the Acadian Expulsion in 1755.

Registration time was from 1 - 2:30 P.M.

The meeting came to a close around 5:30 P.M.

Respectfully Submitted,

James [Signature]