ACGS Board of Directors meeting

Excused: Norma Boyce, Julie Smith

Not in attendance: Gerry Lalonde

Treasurer Report: We have received nine months of rent from the state, showing an increase in our cash.

Account 4404 is set up for the sale of our pins. The money will go into the cash box at the desk and Paul will deposit and add to the account.

Paul asked what he needed approval to pay. According to rule, he can not pay anything over $100. For example, if he receives a bill for books over $100, can he pay for it? Another example is the Chamber of Commerce bill that came in and given to Marcel. We have spoken about reviewing the guidelines. At this time, we don't even know who is purchasing. Lucie suggested that Paul continue doing what he's been doing until the guidelines have been revised. Larry commented that he purchases books if the funds are in the acquisition budget. Marcel suggested we should begin to review the guidelines beginning with the Treasurer section.

Vice President Report: Report submitted

Acquisition: Massachusetts archives of Births and Marriage registers 1896 to 1905 are in the mail. There are 71 rolls of film. We will be needing to request more file space in the near future since there are more films coming from Massachusetts and 1900 - 1947 Marriages from New Hampshire.

Paul Lambert said that the reader, the one that takes wide tape, is being used a lot. It was repaired again. Is it time to look at a newer reader. The rep spoke to Larry and said that that reader was one of two workhorses that we had and both are worth maintaining. Paul stated that we had extra cash in the checking account and it may be a good time to look at buying needed equipment.

Building and Grounds: Getting quotes from four sign companies. Connie wondered if we could get approval for a lighted sign. Marcel said the sign companies are checking on permits. Paul Lambert said that the 3rd floor restroom doors should be left open because the lights stay on and we don't know about it with the door closed.

Computers: Bob asked if there were still issues with e-mail. He said that files had been deleted on the research computer. Marcel suggested a sniffer software to monitor who is using the computer. Password for the research computer were on a need to know basis.

AT&T bill came in with ½ month charge for time we did not have the service. We are still getting a bill for this time and Bob is disputing the charges with AT&T.

Conference Committee: Report submitted

Inventory: We have sold 175 books plus 25 Croteau books so far this year, not including 80 more than ~~Maurice~~ Muriel has for orders. Total profit so far is $2,028 minus postage of $256. Muriel asked what the mark up on the books were. Lucie said that Pauline Cote marks them up 125%. Paul stated that the publication postage is off by $100. It is from a check that was issued to Roger Lanctot and never cashed. So that check has been voided and re-issued. When Roger Lanctot mails out books, he turns in a break down receipt (Genealogist, maps, books, etc).

Regarding profits on books, Paul said that a calculation is used – what the author is selling it to us for plus what can the market bear. In the case of the Croteau books, 50% goes back to the diocese minus the postage.

Muriel stated that there was nothing on the shelves under the repertoires and she would like to put the Croteau books there. Lucie said to go ahead and do that. Muriel said that on several Croteau books, we only have one copy left. Discussion followed about not having the Croteau books re-copied since most of the information is in our own repertoires.

Library Board: No meeting

Membership: We are now over 8,400 on number of members. Marcel is going to the AFGS Conference this weekend and will check to see if they have any issues regarding membership.

Research: A lot more requests are coming in via e-mail, more than through regular mail. Some of the requests were impossible. There were no issues with the increase in prices.

Other business: Connie Hamel went to the ACA Court in Nashua. 75 tickets had been sold to the event. At the event, Roland Marchand said our web site would be better if we listed our holdings. Discussion followed regarding that possibility. The fact that we do have our holdings summarized, who would look through 9,000 listings. If we could search all of the holdings, it may attract other people to our library. Would it be beneficial to list just repertoires and do a count on hits on that page. It would cost $200 for the list to be added to the web site with a simple search.

Quinton: A letter will be put together to mail to him.

Ste. Foye: The library in Ste. Foye sent in an order for over $2,000 and wanted a discount. Marcel contacted them and informed them that a discount was only available if they picked the books up. They have agreed on the full order at full price.

Jean Louis Houde Book: The author wants to let us have some of his books to sell. The book has been reviewed. Paul said that if the mark up is only 15%, it is not worth us carrying it. Getting more info before we agree.

Volunteer Appreciation Day: Larry Autotte suggested a tentative date of June 8 for an appreciation day for librarians and all other volunteers.

Guidelines: Before next month meeting, everyone will be reviewing to page 8 (up to membership committee) except for Treasurer section. These pages will be reviewed at the May Board of Directors meeting.

Web Site Report: Re: Americart, the service that would provide people to purchase our books online. Paul said that there was one problem. Credit card claims, the bank now sends it back to us. If it goes through Americart, are we prepared to monitor the process. Lucie suggested to have one person assigned and we process credit card and prepare book orders. AFGS is doing this and doing quite well. Diane Thibault motioned to go for the trial 3 months with Americart, Muriel seconded. Eight voted to approve motion, 2 abstained. Motion carried.

Pauline Cusson had suggested to putting New Hampshire and New York date base online by subscription. What might the pros and cons be? It was said that it would take away the service of the research department. Also, it would effect the sales of repertoires. It was questioned how would it be administered and what would the cost to set up. Item was tabled.

Letterhead: Six choices for letterhead were passed around and one was chosen, with blue print.

Constance Hebert motioned to adjourn, Connie Hamel seconded. Meeting adjourned 8:25

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT For Board Meeting of April 10, 2003

Scheduled meeting for April 5, 2003 was postponed because of inclement weather. This meeting has now been rescheduled for April 19th.

The schedule for the Spring Workshops being held on Saturday, April 26th is in place. Registrations have begun coming in through the ACGS Web site and after members received their copy of the journal. A copy of the program is attached. Copies and registration forms are also available at the desk in the library.

The Soirée for the ACGS 30th Anniversary Conference weekend will be held on Friday, September 26, 2003 at T. J. Brennan's. Tickets are now on sale and are available to members first. At the 25th, the Soirée sold out immediately to the general public and people who were there who knew nothing about ACGS. This time, we wanted to make it available first to our membership and secondly have a waiting list for the general public should we need one. It is a Society milestone and celebration and our members should be the first to be able to attend this celebration.

There are five speakers scheduled for the Fall Conference to be held on September 27, 2003 at the ACGS building.

Speakers for the 30th Anniversary Conference:

- Georges Arsenault Prince Edward Island
- Denis Beauregard Quebec
- Paul Cyr New Bedford
- Barbara LeBlanc Nova Scotia
- Gail Moreau Michigan

At the Conference Committee meeting scheduled for April 19th, we hope to finalize the schedule for the Fall Conference as well as other details.

Respectfully submitted,

President's Report

Contacted by Jean-Louis Houde, looking to have his book listed and sold by ACGS. Was reviewed last year in the Genealogist. We have it on our shelves.

Contacted by the Société Généalogique de Québec (SGC) with an order for 50 of our Répertoires totaling $2105.40. They were also looking for a 15% percent discount on the order. I spoke with a Madame Mariette Parent and informed her that our policy is to only give a 10% discount on orders that are picked up at the library on the account that we do pay the shipping on orders. She indicated that she would be putting a check for the full amount in the mail to us on Monday April 7th.

City of Manchester Chamber of Commerce Membership is now due. $210.00

Respectfully submitted,

ACGS WEB SITE REPORT
For Board Meeting of April 10, 2003

Since launching the new Web site in December, we have had 83,423 hits/visitors to our site. The number of visit decreased a bit in March but I think it is because we need to continue posting new and vital information for researchers.

With this in mind, it has been suggested that we might want to consider posting the New Hampshire Repertories online on a subscription basis [similar to PRDH]. Is this feasible? Would it work for us? I have asked Pauline Cote for feedback on this and I'm sure I will hear from her before the Board meeting on Thursday evening.

The ACGS Mail List is working fine and there are no difficulties encountered. There are now 75 members on the list. The Message Board is working equally well.

With each new issue of the journal, we update the site with the President's Letter and the Index. We also update the repertoire list and other books we list for sale in the catalogue.

The new ACGS pin has been added to the site in the catalogue and we have been receiving both phone calls and emails about whether or not they will be available at the workshops.

If at all possible, we would need a key programmed on the cash register to handle the pin sales so we can track them. For now, the cash is in the box containing the pins. As of Wednesday, April 2nd, we had sold 16 pins.

The Spring Workshops, Fall Conference Soirée and Fall Conference Speakers were added to the site as soon as I had received all of the information necessary. Since then, photos of the speakers have also been added.

Tyler is very timely in posting all new information once it is sent to him. We are grateful for that.

Do we want to consider now adding an online store to our site? If so, we could use Americart shopping Cart Service. This is the same company that AFGS is using. I have been in touch with AFGS and I was told that their online sales is proving to pay for itself and is successful.

Americart is the least expensive online shopping program that I have been able to find and I am encouraged by the positive feedback that I have received from AFGS.

Can we make more of a concerted effort to get people to stop taking all of those things into the library? Perhaps if all of us who are on the Board say something if we are there and see this happening?? Perhaps too, we could put a large sign on the second floor library entrance door telling people that they may not go beyond the desk with bags, books and garments of all sorts??

I assure you that some of the bags I've been seeing at the PRDH computer, at the microfilm readers and on the tables, make it very easy for people to hide, stash and leave with books.

LETTERHEAD & ENVELOPES:

I am told that our stock is low. I will take the letterhead samples to the Board meeting so we can decide on which one the Board prefers. Not everybody had responded electronically in December, so I put this on hold. It looks like we now have to come to a decision. We can choose from the prepared samples or we can create something else.

RESEARCH COMPUTER:

On Wednesday when I turned on the Research Computer to check ACGS mail and to send mail, it was impossible to check ACGS mail as someone had changed our protocol to POP3. I kept trying to receive and to send an email and each time that I tried to send, I would get a message asking me to set up an email account. That meant that somebody had changed the settings sometime between Saturday and Wednesday probably trying to access their own email account from home or wherever. On Sunday afternoon, it was found that the computer had been left on since Saturday. Any time that computer, with password to the Internet is left on, it allows anyone who goes into the library when we are closed to access the Internet.

Bob Decoteau did try to straighten out the problem on Wednesday but when he could not he called Bob Paquette and tried to straighten out over the phone. Finally, Bob Paquette had to come to the library to straighten things out. In talking with Constance Hebert, it just seems like people who do not need to get into that computer have been given the password quite freely and one Saturday someone who is not a Board member nor who has the need to know was on that computer. Unless someone has a right to access mail or the Internet through that computer should they be given the password? To my knowledge, at this time the only people who now have the password are: Constance Hebert, Muriel Normand, Marcel Jussaume, Bob Paquette and me. Bob Neveux will also have the password. Do other people need access?

Lucie LeBlanc Consentino, #6781

Computer Committee Report

April 2003

We have had the following computer activities during the past month:

The password on the Research computer has been changed in an effort to limit access. It was discovered that the server addresses in both the POP3 & SMTP fields were deleted and left blank. The result was that no e-mail was coming in or going out thus making it tough for the research coordinator and corresponding secretary to do their jobs. Whether this was a malicious act or a fat fingered misdeed, who knows. My thought is that perhaps someone was attempting to check their home e-mail remotely and didn't know how to go about it. I hope that I am thinking on the innocent side. The situation will be monitored and we will be considering further limiting access particularly on the staff computers.

The Holdings Computer now has the publications database. There is an additional update ready to be appended to this. Additionally this database is on two other pc's.

Checked on the $150. rebate on the DSL modem. It seems that our P.O. box is a real problem with the telco's as our mailing address does not match our service address. I contacted COVAD and advised them of the problem ... again (this is the fourth time I have had to deal with this rebate). I pointed out the fact that this didn't seem to be a problem when sending the monthly bill. I was told the address issue would be corrected. I hope it will.

The comparison is somewhat deceiving. Last year a Genealogist was published during the month of March @ the cost of $4,259.00. Also the rent income for this month is overstated by $7000.00.
 Total $4,259 + $7,000. = $11,259. Actual Net Income $12,995.53 - 11,259. = $1,695.63 that is a more realistic amount.

Hi Marcel,

I think it is fine to sell the book for $25.00 and retain $10.00.

I am indifference about it.

The thing that has to be done is that a written agreement be done:

- a. How long we will keep the try outs?
- b. How often will we be required to remit to Mr. Houle?
- c. Will we be responsible for any stolen books?
- d. Will the agreement continue after we have sold the original books or will we be allowed to get more on the same pricing?

So that everybody will know what has been agreed to by the AFCGS.

We don't need another "Quinton" case on our hand.
